Was in Hearne a few years ago visiting the Hearne Democrat and was asked about urban renewal.

"Oh, it's coming along," I said. "And you're still in Cameron?" Interesting question since Hearne had gone into the urban renewal program even several years earlier than that brief conversation.

To all who may still wonder about things like this here, you might read a letter to the editor from College Station in your Herald of October 11.

NOW-NOW-NOW

Was advised to watch the 6 o'clock news over KWTX-TV the other evening.

And watched several minutes of film and commentary on the old jail, a glance at the architect's sketch of the new one.

It was fascinating to watch the TV camera picture the broad, antique bars of that three-story Victorian masterpiece which had become years ago so easily escapable.

That had been another continuing story that had raised a lot of questions.

It was interesting, almost amusing for a while when people got out for this flimsy reason or that, but some years ago when a three-time loser jumped out, a felon previously convicted sentenced to 25 years, it was just about as unfunny as anyone could imagine. This is not to mention the general conditions of the interior so clearly shown in the KWTX-TV film feature. That escapee, incidentally was immediately returned to prison for jail-breaking. But that didn't stop the jail-breaks.

The first time somebody gets out of the new jail, finances for which may come from revenue sharing or Central Texas Council of Governments, the questions about how well they stay in will be asked.

There may not be an answer, except that the inclination to bust out will not be as great or as easy. Like anyone else, I assume the new one will be as strong as its exterior is attractive.

A petition bearing 1,035 signatures protesting the ban on artificial flowers at Oakwood Cemetery was delivered to the president of the cemetery association at a meeting Thursday morning. City Experiences Growth

ROCKDALE

If utility hookups are an indication, Rockdale has experienced a moderate but steady growth in population over the past two years. While the figures are by no means indicative of a population boom, they show a definite residential growth trend, according to a Rockdale Reporter survey taken with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Lone Star Gas Co. and Texas Power and Light Co.

Bids Out On Water System

BELTON

Bids on a new water system for downtown Belton will be opened on November 13, Roy Dumlup, city engineer, presented final plans for the new water system at the October city council meeting. The water lines to be replaced were laid in 1884. However, most of those lines have been repaired so many times, there are only sections and pieces left of the original lines, the council was advised. The council emphasized in the past that downtown street improvements cannot be made until the water mains are replaced.

Seniors Get Color Television

HEARNE

Through contributions provided by Hearne businessmen and other interested citizens, the senior citizens residing at the Waggon Wheel Lodge in Hearne are now afforded the pleasure of viewing color television. The 25-inch, console model was installed at the home on October 4. It was through the efforts of Mrs. C. E. West, who initiated the fund drive a week ago, that the gift to the elderly residents at the home was made possible.

Free Glaucoma Screening Set At Rockdale

A free glaucoma screening will be held at the Rockdale Elementary School Cafeteria on Sunday afternoon, October 21 from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. in an attempt to track down unknown cases of glaucoma, a blinding eye disease.

The free tests screening program is open to all residents of Rockdale and surrounding areas, thirty-five years of age and over.

It will be sponsored by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Rockdale Lions Club in cooperation with members of the Travis County Medical Society and Bell County Medical Society. The program has been approved by the Milam County Medical Society and local Health Department.

Parsons Runnerup In Texas Highway Contest

John W. Parsons, Texas Highway Department maintenance foreman in Milam County, received a $500 check October 11 as runnerup in the Lady Bird Johnson highway beautification contest. First place winner was Orin Gerald Brooks of Jeff Davis County.

Mrs. Johnson established the award in 1970 to salute Texas Highway Department maintenance foremen for their efforts to preserve and enhance the beauty of Texas roadsides.

In contrast to the rough terrain of Brooks' far West Texas county, Parsons maintains, beautifies, and oversees 320 miles of highways over the rolling prairies of Milam County.

The youngest supervisor in District 17, he has initiated a planting program in all the rest areas of Milam County, calling on Highway Department landscape architects for advice and planning assistance. His use of selective mowing procedures allows wild flowers to propagate and to transform plain ribbons of highways into a blend of color and beauty.

Last May, Parsons received a letter from Mrs. Johnson who wrote after driving on a highway through Milam County, "It was lined with a glorious path of Indian paint brush which lifted my spirits and brightened my trip, as I'm sure it did for many other tourists. Congratulations on all your work -- and on a job well done."

The awards were presented before an audience of 200 distinguished guests at the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park in Stonewall.

Bloodmobile Draws 67 Units

The Bloodmobile drew 67 units of blood at its visit Wednesday, with 8 donors rejected, according to Mrs. Glenda Moseley, blood program chairman.

The next visit will be after the first of the year, and it is hoped Cameron can start off right by reaching its quota of 73 units.

POST OFFICES LISTED FOR FOOD STAMPS

Beginning in November the new statewide Food Stamp Program will start operation in Milam County, according to Edwin J. Tyroch, of the State Department of Public Welfare in Temple.

Participants will receive an Authorization to Purchase (ATP) card during the first week of November. To buy food stamps, the ATP card, along with identification card and money (cash only) should be taken to the post office.

Post offices in Cameron, Rockdale, and Thorndale will be food stamp headquarters in those cities.

Participants may buy food stamps at those post offices between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays.

The ATP card is valid only during the month in which it was issued. For protection, participants should not sign the ATP card until food stamps are purchased.

Participants with questions should contact the food stamp office at 603 West 6th in Cameron or the local welfare office.

United Fund Agency...

Girl Scout Council Needs Help

(Another in a series about local agencies that benefit from the United Fund. A drive for $9,000 will begin in November.)

The Lone Star Girl Scout Council serves over 7,500 girls in 18 counties in south central Texas with Austin as the headquarters city.

The Council's operations are financed largely through participation in 14 United Funds and 12 Girl Scout Fund drives in non-UF towns. Each community is asked to allocate or raise its fair share of the council budget.

A Council board of directors, in consultation with local volunteer adults in each community, develops the plan of work and budget for the council.

The purpose of Girl Scouting is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service so that they may become happy and resourceful citizens.

Girl Scout membership is representative of all economic, cultural, and social groups. The need for Girl Scouting is not based on economic level. All girls need and want the opportunity to belong to a group and to be part of this kind of informal, educational, recreational program as they grow up.

The services which the Girl Scout Council provides to bring this program to girls includes:

1. An employed staff -- paid staff of five and one-half professional workers and four clerical workers to provide professional advice and assistance to over 1,400 adult volunteers and to carry out those parts of the work delegated to staff.

2. Council headquarters -- to facilitate the total work of the council, a council office is maintained for the processing of membership registrations, camp and training registrations, handling correspondence, record keeping and filing, bookkeeping, sale of badges and pins, preparation of materials, providing a work base for staff and a service center for volunteer workers.

3. Training -- the council provides a comprehensive training program for all adult volunteers working in Girl Scouting; such courses as group leadership, workshops, camp training, etc. are given regularly.

4. Program opportunities beyond the troop -- although the most important part of the Girl Scout program is carried out in the weekly meetings of troops, it is important to provide opportunities beyond the troop. Some of these are: the Council's established camp at Camp Tex-lake on Lake Travis for four 2-week sessions each summer, and other program events such as Arts Festivals, Field Days, and the Senior Girl Scout Conference.

Agnew Steps Out....

Spiro Agnew is no longer vice-president after his unprecedented, historic resignation and "nolo contendere" pleading to an income tax evasion charge.

President Nixon is likely to name a successor, just as likely someone like John Connally, if not Connally, early this week.

Mr. Agnew's plea was said to be tantamount to admission of guilt by the federal judge who sentenced him to a three-year probated sentence and $10,000 fine. The plea means "no contest."

A 40-page charge sheet of other charges and addenda was put on the record and released to the press. It was agreed by U. S. attorney general Richardson to recommend no prison sentence and dropping other charges implicit in the 40-page document, following Mr. Agnew's resignation.

The document quotes two witnesses who describe how payments went to Mr. Agnew while in Baltimore and even after election to his quarters or offices as vice president. Payments apparently came from contractors in Maryland who were assured of getting contracts for payment consideration. It allows he made contacts for such payments himself.

The income tax invasion charge was for the year 1967 year before he was nominated and elected as vice president.

It was a shocker, even to people who anticipated the possibility after grand jury proceedings in the case had begun.

But conjecture of this sort proved to be accurate. The only previous resignation of a vice president was Calhoun of South Carolina, who stepped aside to claim a senate seat he had won in 1832. This is the first time a vice president in office faced felony charges.

Whoever succeeds will have to please a Democratic majority in both houses and undergo the closest sort of public and private scrutiny. If it is John Connally, he will have to reduce criticism from both sides of the aisle who see his appointment as "too political."

But politics have a great deal to do with presidential elections and even with unprecedented vice-presidential appointments. Political writers have suggested that Connally's persuasive powers will prevail in the event of an Agnew resignation, however remote it once seemed.

Well, it is here.

Valuations Up....

Cameron School District valuations are up $2 million. They now total a bit over $28 millions.

This is due to increased valuations in the Cameron area and to the CISD - Maysfield consolidation. Collections will approximate $350,000.

It represents about a 8 percent increase over a year ago. But the rising cost of public education easily offsets this increase, no matter how welcome, how beneficial.

This increase enables the modest, but essential building program at Yoe Campus. The school is following a $60,000 to $120,000 annual improvements program for the next few years.

Ultimate solutions are being stayed by this gradual assimilation of remaining smaller districts adjacent to CISD. We have no figures readily at hand, but Milano, Buckholts, Thorndale and Rogers, to name several, all face the same problems. And CISD was the only one this year to absorb a sizeable new source of local tax revenue.

Which leads to the point where Governor Briscoe asks for more information before calling any special session, let alone special session for Texas school tax study.

If need be, his people could start with CISD to see how difficult a problem the present two systems sustains, resolving the need for quality education in an area otherwise successful in upgrading itself.

World Health Group To Fight River-Blindness

By Bernard Edinger

WAYEN VILLAGE
Reuter -- Sigiye crouches close to the ground, low on his haunches, and works in his small millet field near this tiny African village using only his hands.

Though his young son works standing upright nearby with a hoe, the only tools that Sigiye can use for the delicate task of weeding are his own calloused hands.

For like 50,000 others in poverty-stricken Upper Volta, Sigiye is totally blind, a victim of onchocerciasis, the dreaded river-blindness.

In stages short of total blindness but seriously impairing their vision, half a million people in Upper Volta, or one in every 10 inhabitants of this landlocked west central African country, are affected by the disease.

Around the world, in places as far apart as Yemen or Central America, 20 million people are victims of river blindness.

Living just a few miles from the banks of the deceptively beautiful White Volta River -- infested with blackfly which spreads the malady -- Sigiye could expect his own son to be blind shortly after the age of 30.

But if one of the most ambitious health projects ever to be launched in Africa is successful, Sigiye's son will always be able to do his farming standing up and, unlike his father, he will not need a child to lead him to the fields.

The projects aim is to wipe out the disease-spreading blackfly, mainly by spraying insecticide from a fleet of light aircraft and helicopters.

They will operate down thousands of miles of fast flowing rivers spread over 232,000 square miles in west African countries -- Upper Volta, Ghana, the Ivory Coast

Mali, Dahomey, Togo and Niger.

Organized by the World Health Organization (WHO) and supported by half-a-dozen international groups, particularly the powerful Washington-based World Bank, the 120 million dollar project hopes to eradicate the blackfly or "simulium damosum" over a period of 20 to 25 years.

The problems are multiple since the blackfly is particularly resistant.

The fly transmits to humans, a thread-like worm which lodges in the body causing great lumps, depigmentation, a thickening and wrinkling of the skin so severe that the skin around Sigiye's knees resembles elephant hide.

The worms multiply within the body as people living in an endemic area are constantly reinfected by the fly.

In the worst affected areas, as many as half of the population can be stricken and here in Wayen, six men are completely blind and a dozen others are half-blind among a population of only 50.

The disease has weighed terribly on the shaky economies of these Young African countries, several of which are rated among the 25 poorest nations in the world.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

This is not only out of my field but also over my head but for the past few days I've been struggling over how we can use our Constitutional scholars.

According to what I've been reading in the newspapers, there is a great division of opinion in Washington and around the country over what the Constitution says on such matters as whether or not the President has the right to withhold his tapes even if they might contain evidence in a criminal trial, or over the question of whether a Vice President can be indicted before he's impeached.

Some Washington officials say yes to both questions, others say no, so what do they do? They call in outstanding Constitutional scholars. And what do the scholars say?

Some say yes, some say no.

In other words, after a lifetime spent in studying the Constitution, the scholars can't come any closer to a unanimous agreement than the rest of us, most of whom have never read the Constitution all the way through in the first place.

I'm not going to say that the scholars have wasted their time, but I suspect they've been given the wrong questions. You don't have to have memorized the Constitution to know it doesn't say anything about tapes, but if you got as far as the 8th grade you know it says all men are created equal, not necessarily in talent and brain power but equal before the law, and it doesn't excuse even Presidents and Vice Presidents from this splendid treatment of the human race.

I didn't intend to get so serious, I just wanted to point out that when you consult more than one scholarly authority on any subject you're likely to come out with more than one answer. If you want to know what the Constitution says on most issues, figure out what would be fair and you'll find that's what it was trying to say.

I don't think the Constitution says anything about this, but after a lifetime of scholarly studying of the matter, I've noticed that in the long run you wind up tired -- er than in the short run.

Yours faithfully
J.A.

Collision With Ambulance

Driving home from work, Harold crashed into an ambulance at a busy intersection. In short order he found himself facing a charge of "failing to yield the right-of-way to an emergency vehicle."

But in court, Harold came up with the following facts in his own defense:

1) that the traffic light had been in his favor;
2) that he had not heard the siren because he had his windows up and his radio on; and
3) that he had not seen the ambulance until the last moment, because other cars were obscuring his vision.

Under these circumstances the court could find nothing negligent in Harold's conduct, and dismissed the charge.

Traffic codes generally do give special privileges to ambulances. However, these privileges are not absolute. In case of a collision between an ambulance and a private car, the court will weigh the entire situation on its merits.

Furthermore, ambulances have privileges only when there is (or at least appears to be) a true emergency.

That NATO can be described best as a collective defensive security arrangement of 15 European nations pledged to bind themselves in a defensive alliance?

That the mission of NATO today is the same as it has been for 24 years—to deter aggression but, if deterrence fails, to defend NATO nations as far forward as possible?

Mrs. Johnson To Honor Award Program Finalists

AUSTIN — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will host more than 200 distinguished guests at a luncheon October 11 at the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near Stonewall to honor the six finalists in the fourth annual Lady Bird Johnson Award program.

Mrs. Johnson established the award in 1970 to salute Texas Highway Department maintenance foremen for their efforts to preserve and enhance the beauty of Texas roadways.

Texas state officials who will come to the LBJ State Park for this occasion are Governor and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe, U. S. Congressman and Mrs. J. J. Jake Pickle, members of the Texas Highway Commission, and administrative officers from the Texas Highway Department and other state agencies.

Among the distinguished out-of-state guests who plan to attend the luncheon and award presentation are Mrs. Everett Hutchinson, Mrs. William D. Ruckelshaus, and Mrs. Leslie Carpenter from Washington, D. C. All of these ladies are Texans and are active in environmental protection efforts. Mrs. Hutchinson's husband, an attorney in Washington, is a former Undersecretary of Transportation. Mrs. Ruckelshaus, a White House assistant, is the wife of the Deputy U. S. Attorney General, and Mrs. Carpenter was press secretary to the former First Lady.

Four of Mrs. Johnson's friends from Georgia will be at the LBJ State Park for the occasion: Mrs. Jimmy Carter, wife of Governor Carter; Mrs. J. B. Fuqua, Mrs. John Cherry, president of Georgia State Garden Clubs, and Mrs. Chester Martin, president of the Georgia Roadside Council.

Other interested guests from Georgia will be William Nash, southern regional director of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., and Ed Laws a landscape architect from the Highway Division of the Georgia State Department of Transportation.

Following a reception and barbecue luncheon on the grounds, the program honoring the finalists will be held at the amphitheatre under the giant oaks that grace the LBJ Park. Congressman Pickle will be master of ceremonies. Featured speaker will be Dr. Chauncey Hardwick, beautification administrator for the Federal Highway Administration.

Professor Elo Urbanovsky chairman of the judges, will introduce the finalists and announce the winner and runner up for the 1973 Lady Bird Johnson Award.

The six finalists, who will be present with their wives, are maintenance construction foremen or supervisors who were selected from 25 nominees, one from each Highway Department District. They are John E. Black of Brady, Orr Gerald Brooks, Jeff Davis County; Charlie A. Hobbs, Baylor County; John W. Parsons, Milam County; Willie F. Rankin, Jr., Floresville; and James C. Simmons, Dallas.

Judges for the competition include Professor Urbanovsky of Lubbock, Mr. Glen Biggs, San Antonio; Mrs. William P. Hobby, Houston, and Mr. Roy White Austin

Roadside Vegetable Stand Gives Something Different

Roadside marketing of fruits and vegetables should continue to expand simply because many consumers are bored and looking for something different.

The outlook is from Dr. M. E. Cravens, Ohio State University agricultural economist who has conducted surveys on the problems and potentials of retail marketing by farmers.

Speaking to about 100 persons attending the annual Peach and Plum Growers Conference Oct. 9-10 at Texas A&M University, he said consumers sometimes get tired of shopping in the big food stores and look for places that are a bit old-fashioned and earthy.

"Call it nostalgia if you wish. People, especially in their middle and late years, long for scenes of their childhood. Roadside stands can help provide this," the economist explained.

There might even be some spin-off from the current organic food fad. Shoppers tend to associate right-out-of-the-fields produce as being more wholesome, although this may or may not be the actual case, Cravens said.

Roadside marketing, he pointed out, can be a rewarding venture, but it's not for everybody. First, the farmer must like people and be pliant enough to deal with peculiarities of customers.

And then there are the intricacies of retail merchandising.

"Farmers find themselves looking at the fruit and vegetable business from the retailer's standpoint instead of the producer's, which can be a big change," the speaker said. "Things become so complex that the roadside stand owner will decide to shut down."

If a farmer is thinking about setting up a roadside stand, there are additional factors to consider, Cravens said.

Location is important but not as much as it was once believed to be. Customers hunting farm-fresh fruits and vegetables are highly mobile and willing to travel.

It's a good idea to specialize in one offering, such as peaches, but other produce will lend variety. Much depends upon whether the farmer's stand is strictly seasonal and is open only a month or two out of the year, or whether it is open most of the year.

Competitive fruits, such as apples and citrus, were once thought to be bad business for the apple grower.

However, Cravens said, it has been found that they actually complement each other and make the stand more interesting for customers.

As for pricing, this is largely a play-it-by-ear situation.

"If your product is extra good, don't be afraid to charge as much or more than the supermarket," he said. "Many farmers are inclined to price their produce too low. If you don't get customer complaints on prices you know your prices are too low."

Who's Who To List Dr. Klevansky

Dr. Raymond C. Klevansky, of Newton Memorial Hospital, has been notified that his name will appear in the 1973-74 edition of "Who's Who in Texas," which is a compilation of biographical information on outstanding citizens of the State of Texas.

"Who's Who in Texas" has been pre-assigned a Library of Congress index number and will be filed there.

Cameron Ladies Tennis Group Sets Play Days

Tuesdays and Sundays were set for Cameron Ladies Town and Country Tennis Association pyramid play at their second annual organizational meeting here.

Regular play day will be 9 to 11 a.m. Tuesdays at the Yoe High School tennis courts and 5 p.m. Sundays for employed members who are unable to meet on Tuesdays.

The organization set a goal of improving tennis facilities in Cameron during the coming year and encouraging new facilities. Members also agreed to cooperate with the local schools in sponsoring a program of summer instruction for junior players which will involve regular supervised play.

Rosalee Mondrik, Association secretary, reviewed projects undertaken last year that included free tennis instruction for members, improvements to the Yoe High tennis courts and a tournament for members and prospective members.

Anyone interested in joining the tennis association is asked to contact Carol Barr, 697-2147, for further information. Regular tennis instruction for members will be available throughout the year.

'Make It Yourself' Contest For Teens

Growing interest in home sewing and knitting is especially noticeable in the teenage area. The Make-It-Yourself With Wool program provides a good time to start a back-to-school outfit that also can be entered in this nationwide contest for teenagers.

Sponsoring the contest are the American Sheep Producers Council and the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association to help encourage the area of home sewing and knitting among the younger generation and to show them the advantages of sewing or knitting with wool.

The home sewing field has grown into a $3 billion business, more than doubling its size and scope in seven years. The trend to home-crafts has helped create this widespread interest in "doing your own thing" among the younger generation, according to Mrs. Iris Little, District 8 Director of the contest. "We like to think of the art of sewing or knitting as symbolic of what the young people today do to develop ingenuity and creativity, besides providing a beautiful wardrobe," she declared.

Make-It-Yourself With Wool begins at the district level competition, Saturday November 10, 1973, Student Union Building, Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, Texas. The fashion show will be held at 2 p.m. The contest ends in January with a trip to San Diego, California for the junior and the senior winners of the state or area sheep councils. The two finalists in San Diego then get a trip to New York city and next summer a trip to Europe, besides other prizes, such as a set of Samsonite Luggage.

The contests held at district and state levels will determine the finalists who will go to San Diego. The national finals are January 24, 1974. To receive an entry form contact either: Mrs. Iris Little, Department of Home Economics, Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, Texas 78666, 245-2155, District 8 Director, or write to the American Wool Council, Dept. WS, 200 Clayton Street, Denver, Colorado.

Yoemen Win In Final Seconds

By Glynn Cummings

It seemed as if a tough Lampasas defense was too strong for the Cameron Yoemen, until the second half when Cameron exploded for two touchdowns giving them a 13-7 district opener victory over a determined Lampasas team.

The entire first half was ruled by the Badger defense who contained Cameron's powerful running attack and pounced on three Yoemen fumbles. However, the Yoemen hosted an equally strong defensive attack as they forced the Badgers to turn the ball over on downs, following each Yoemen fumble.

Each time the Yoemen fumbled it gave the Badgers excellent field position. The first fumble was recovered on the Yoe 25, the second on the Yoe 25, and the third on the Yoe 37 yard line. However, the Badgers failed to capitalize on the recoveries and the Yoemen, aided by a fumble recovery by Don Fleming on the Yoe 20, escaped the first half with a 0-0 tie.

At the beginning of the second half, a new ruler came to the throne as Cameron struck fast for the first touchdown of the game.

The score was set up by a 42 yard punt return by Yoe powerhouse, George Whiteside, giving Cameron excellent field position at the Lampasas 21 yard line. Seconds later Whiteside carried the ball over from the 1-foot line. Gene Kopriva kicked the extra point and with 8:06 left in the third quarter Cameron captured a 7-0 lead.

Following the Yoe kickoff, a determined Lampasas team bounced right back with a 57 yard scoring drive. With 3:35 left in the third quarter, the Badgers brought the score to a 7-7 tie.

It seemed as if the game would be decided by number of penetrations until Lampasas' Gary Milligan recovered a Whiteside fumble on the Lampasas 24 yard line.

If the Badgers could have controled the ball for the remaining 3 minutes and 35 seconds, the game decision would have gone to them as they led 2 to 1 in penetrations at this point.

However, that ol' reliable Yoe defense came through once again and forced the Badgers to punt from their own 32 yard line.

After a 19 yard punt return by Whiteside, Cameron went to work with only 2:21 left in the game at the Yoe 49 yard line.

On 2 and 9 from the 50, Jafus White galloped down to the Lampasas 29 yard line on a well executed draw play. Yoe quarterback, Gene Kopriva then carried to the 19, and on the next play passed to Mike White who stopped the clock with only 1:10 remaining as he ran out of bounds at the 11.

Whiteside carried for 2 down to the 9 yard line, and one play later Kopriva escaped a strong Badger pass rush and carried the ball the 9 yards for the game clenching touchdown. The extra point was unsuccessful and with 29 seconds left in the game, Cameron led 13-7.

All Lampasas' hopes of victory were crushed plays later as Jafus White intercepted a Badger aerial, and what seemed to be a frustrating night for the Cameron Yoemen was turned into a glorious victory.

Thursday night the Cameron junior varsity and freshmen began the game series with Lampasas and both gained impressive victories. Yoe junior varsity defeated Lampasas 21-0, and the Yoe freshmen defeated Lampasas freshmen 40-0.

Scoring for the JV was Dennis Hollas, Mark Harwell and Robert Miller. The freshmen scoring was done by Aaron Miller, Julian Martinez, Donald Komar, Sam Green and Brian Wilkerson, with two touchdowns.

In other action, the Yoe 7th grade battled the Marlin 7th grade to a 0-0 tie and the Yoe 8th grade wrestled the Marlin 8th grade to a 6-6 tie.

In the 7th grade game both Marlin and Cameron had scoring opportunities, but neither team managed to cross the goal.

Cameron's chance came late in the first half, but time ran out and Cameron was left on the 2 yard line. The Yoe 7th grade was guided to the 2 by the running of Steven Hollas and a 19 yard passing combination from Cauley to Tina.

Marlin's scoring opportunity came late in the fourth quarter, but was ended as Cameron recovered a Marlin fumble on the Yoe 10 yard line.

The Yoe 8th grade launched a fine defensive effort in their game, but only managed to capture a 6-6 tie.

David Rosemond scored the only Yoe touchdown in the third quarter on a 9 yard scamper.

The Yoe defense was led by Joe Reyes, Bobby Burton, Peter Riola, John Schmidt, and Alan Richardson.

Eagles Smothers Panthers 27-14

A powerful ground attack led the Rogers Eagles to a 27-14 district win over the Pflugerville Panthers Friday night at Eagle stadium.

Rogers struck first as Charles Green plunged 4 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter of play. The extra point was unsuccessful and Rogers led 6-0.

Late in the same quarter Panther wingback John Schoefield scored on a 35 yard touchdown pass from halfback Lance Gracy. Gary Preim's extra point put Pflugerville out in front by the score of 7-6.

The Eagles regained the lead in the second quarter as quarterback Mike Green carried across from the one yard line. Halfback Tommy Douglas ran for the 2 extra points and Rogers led once again 14-7.

During the second half Rogers scored twice. Douglas ran 15 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter and again on an 8 yard line in the fourth quarter.

Pflugerville scored once on a spectacular fourth down and 18 pass combination from Gracy to Schoefield.

The final score was Rogers 27 and Pflugerville 14.

Rockdale Blasts Lockhart

A strong defense and an equally strong offense led the Rockdale Tigers to a 22-0 win over the Lockhart Lions Friday night at Lion stadium.

Tiger quarterback John Backhaus scored the first touchdown on a 3 yard plunge in the second quarter. Backhaus kicked the extra point and Rockdale led 7-0.

Rockdale scored again late in the second quarter as Backhaus hit Ray Locklin with a 30 yard pass play to the Lion 12. Backhaus then threw to Locklin for the touchdown. The extra point failed.

Tiger tackle Loyd Roberson added two more points with seven minutes left in the first half by tackling fullback Mark Dollar in the Lion end zone for a safety. This brought the first half score to 15-0 in favor of Rockdale.

The final score came late in the third quarter. Rockdale drove 53 yards in eight
